I am excited to apply for an opportunity to join your establishment, where I hope to contribute my passion for authentic hospitality and cultural exchange. As someone born and raised in Japan with a degree in Japanese Literature and English, I have developed a deep appreciation for my culture and a strong desire to share it with others. Through my work and studies, I have realized how meaningful it is to introduce authentic Japanese food and hospitality to people in other countries.

I worked as a server at "Kamon," a fine-dining teppanyaki restaurant inside the 5-star Imperial Hotel Tokyo. There, I had the honor of serving many VIP guests, including Japan's Prime Minister and the Queen of Thailand. This experience taught me how to remain calm under pressure, deliver service with precision and grace, and anticipate guests' needs before they asked. I take pride in offering warm, respectful, and detail-oriented hospitality.

In addition, I spent a year studying at the University of California, Irvine, where I improved my English and gained valuable insight into American culture. I also currently teach Japanese online to international students, which has helped me further develop my communication and time management skills.

I am truly passionate about hospitality and believe that food is one of the best ways to connect cultures. Working at your restaurant would allow me to introduce the beauty of Japanese cuisine and service to American guests in a respectful and heartfelt way.

Thank you for considering my application. I would be delighted to discuss how I can contribute to your team. I look forward to the opportunity to speak with you further.

Sincerely,

Mizuki Rogers
